"WHAT I'D LIKE TO BE THANKFUL FOR"—A SYMPOSIUM OF THANKSGIVING WISHES OF FIVE AMERICAN CELEBRITIES

BY WILL ROGERS

I suppose I ought to have a lot of things to be thankful for besides turkey with the wife and kids, but I ain't satisfied.

WILL ROGERS

Of course I'm having a lot of fun making two reel comedies, but I hanker to show my art and get fan letters from flappers like they write to Valentino and Lowell Sherman and those other handsome devils.

I ain't got such a bad figger—that's how I got by in the Follies—but I wish I had the sex appeal to get into DeMille's nightgown dramas.

That's what I'd like to be thankful for!

BY BABE RUTH

One more home run to beat out Cy Williams? Well that would have been nice.

BABE RUTH

Beat Harry Heilmann for batting honors? That would have been sweet.

One more chance at the old pill in that world series eighth inning, with three men on base? Say, I'd have given my shirt for one more sock.

But if I only had somebody up here on this farm, to get out and chop all the wood that's waiting for me—that's what I would like to be thankful for.

BY MARY PICKFORD

First, I should like to be thankful for having done something immortal, for having left some indisputably lasting impression; not in a narrowly selfish or vainglorious sense, but in the assurance that some work of mine were accounted a worthy relic of our common human striving and an honor to my profession.

M. PICKFORD

Second, for having freed myself of that fear, that timidity which is the weed strangling humanity; keeping many of us in old ruts, reluctant to assert and do the valid things for which we might be temporarily misunderstood.

Until I have achieved them, I shall be thankful that I retain the active dissatisfaction which spurs one on to desired accomplishment.

BY GEORGE JEAN NATHAN

I'd be thankful if the taste of the American public would improve up to the point where it would be possible to produce Rostand's "The Last Night of Don Juan." I'd be thankful if a traveling man ever came to New York and asked to see something besides a girlie show.

NATHAN

I'd be thankful if Americans got over the passion for expressing everything in figures—fifty-seven varieties, ninety-nine and 44-100 per cent pure, one hundred per cent American, etc.

BY SENATOR MAGNUS JOHNSON

First, I should like to have the opportunity to be thankful for the complete absence of poverty, misery, hatred, heartache and worry throughout the entire world.

JOHNSON

Second, I should like to be thankful for the existence of prosperity and happiness among the farmers, workers and business people of America. The knowledge that every person in the world was enjoying the full fruits of his efforts would make me very thankful indeed.

And while the realization of these desires seems far away, yet I find it within me today to raise my voice in thanks that we are making progress toward the consummation of these ideals.

BEAUTIFUL DAY ON THANKSGIVING IS ENJOYED HERE

Family Reunions, Outings and Football Game Mark the Holiday Here

UNION CHURCH SERVICES HELD DURING MORNING

Organizations and Individuals Look After Needy Families

Bright skies, a snappy day pronounced delightful for auto trips and outdoor sports, many family reunions, the customary feasts and special services in the churches attended by many devout worshipers combined to give La Crosse an ideal Thanksgiving day.

In the pulpits of La Crosse churches, pastors this morning emphasized the blessings which have accrued to residents of this community during the past year and uttered prayers of thanks in which parishioners joined.

Needy are Fed

Charity sauntered forth Wednesday afternoon in the guise of organizations and individuals and left sundry well filled baskets at the doors of needy families that they might also enjoy the holiday. The La Crosse Lodge of Elks sent out forty baskets to needy families, each containing all the viands and delicacies required to make up a perfect Thanksgiving dinner.

Many individuals in the city looked after poor families in which they are interested, and practically every family in La Crosse today enjoyed a real holiday dinner.

At the county jail Sheriff Lund served a goose dinner to 18 prisoners.

Union church services were held at 10:30 this morning in the Bethel Lutheran church, First Congregational church and St. John's Reformed church. Special services were held at the Episcopal church.

Hundreds of local citizens are planning to attend the football game at the fair grounds this afternoon between La Crosse and Waukesha high school eleveus.

Autoists Enjoy Day

Country roads were marked this morning by lines of autos conveying outers to various points to enjoy holiday dinners. With roads in fine condition many La Crosse people motored to points outside the county to have dinner.

Small boys and some of the larger ones, too, ventured out on the sloughs for their first skating of the year. The ice was found to be safe only on the smaller ponds.

Throughout the city the spirit of Thanksgiving was manifest, and with business houses and public buildings closed, all La Crosse seemed to be enjoying the holiday.

THIRD CHOICE GIVES UP ON CABINET TRY

Centrist Leader Stegerwald Notifies Ebert He Cannot Get a Government Together

REICHSTAG LEADER SAYS GERMANY IS BANKRUPTED

New Renten Mark is Slow in Making its Appearance

BERLIN. — Adam Stegerwald, former premier of Prussia and a Centrist leader, notified President Ebert he would be unable to accept the chancellorship and the task of forming a ministry to succeed that of Dr. Stresemann.

Germany is immediately confronted with a plain case of a state of bankruptcy and will no longer be able to meet her public pay rolls, in the opinion of Dr. George Gothein, reichstag leader, who today vigorously upbraided the socialists and German nationalists for having needlessly precipitated a parliamentary crisis.

Must Have Loan

Dr. Gothein declared Germany's only salvation would be in the form of a foreign loan under allied supervision, similar to that obtained by Austria.

Sixteen and one-half million trillions of marks in new paper currency were floated by the reichsbank in the first week of November, during which period its holdings of discounted treasury bills, private checks, and drafts increased by twenty-six and one-half billion trillions. The current return was the first reported this month, a circumstance which was the subject of comment on today's dull and listless bourse.

New Money Appears Slowly

Dr. Schacht, the newly appointed commissioner of currency, hopes to have the entire issue of the renten mark ready for distribution by the middle of next month. He declares the scarcity of the new money is due wholly to the fact that the printers are in arrears in their deliveries and the initial output was placed at the disposal of the government to enable it to dispense with discounting treasury bills.

Until the renten mark is available in large quantities no attempt will be made to establish a parity between it and the paper mark, the legal status of which meanwhile remains unchanged. It is estimated that about 200,000,000 renten marks now are in circulation, chiefly devoted to meeting the federal pay rolls. Dr. Schacht believes that some friction will be inevitable during the period of transition from the one currency to the other.

Arms of Reds Seized

BERLIN. — Numerous machine guns and rifles were produced today by Prussion Minister of the Interior Severing, who declared they were part of thousands of arms and quantities of munitions captured from communist hoards.

Herr Severing produced the weapons as evidence the communists really had planned an uprising last night. He read letters alleged to have passed between Karl Radek, Russian leader, and the German "Reds," in which Radek urged action and the Germans replied they would strike.

The communists said Herr Severing's statements were inventions and the arms not theirs.

The communist deputies protested vigorously against the arrest of the communist woman deputy Rosi Wolfstein. In reply Herr Severing said Wednesday's demonstrations were carried out by order of the Moscow executive committee and constituted a rehearsal of the proposed general outbreak.

He also announced that twenty-four machine guns, 4,000 revolvers and rifles had been confiscated from the communists since November 15.

Rhineland Leaders Ousted

DUSSELDORF.—By the Associated Press.—The provisional government of the Rhineland republic has been dissolved by Joseph Matthes at Coblenz following an internal military coup, it was learned here today from Matthes himself, who fled while the military separatist dictatorship was being set up. Most of the members of the old provisional government were held a short time under a state of arrest.

AGREE TO FARMER REPRESENTATION IN LOWER HOUSE

Graham Withdraws from Race for G. O. P. Leader After Compromise

AGRICULTURAL BLOC GETS STEERING BOARD MAJORITY

Gillett and Longworth Not to Have Opposition

WASHINGTON, D. C.—By The Associated Press.—Representative Graham of Illinois withdrew on Wednesday from the race for the republican leadership of the house, leaving Representative Longworth of Ohio as the only avowed candidate.

As the situation developed at the other end of the capitol it appeared that the progressive bloc in the senate had the power to hold up organization of that body if they desired so far as has been made known, however, their course of action has not yet been determined upon.

In Agriculture's Interest

Representative Graham, in announcing his retirement from the leadership contest, said he did so under "an expressed understanding that the majority of the republican steering committee during the sixty-eighth congress will be composed of representatives of agricultural constituencies and men who have at heart the interest of agriculture generally, as well as all other interests of the country."

"The legislative program of the house," he added, "is determined by the steering committee of the majority, composed of seven members. If a majority of this committee are members who have at heart the welfare of the agricultural interests of the country and is fairly representative of middle west and western portions of the country, then I believe an organization of the house with Mr. Gillett as speaker and Mr. Longworth as leader will be representative of the varied interests of the whole country."

Admits Lack of Votes

Mr. Graham also asserted that it had become evident to him that he would not have enough votes to be elected leader in the party conference on Saturday and that he had decided "in the interest of party unity and good feelings to withdraw from the contest."

"I believe," he added, "by so doing I can better contribute to the enactment of progressive legislation which is the principal concern of the men with whom I have been co-operating in this contest.

"In doing this I have had no desire for personal honor, nor am I seeking any other office or position except membership on the committee of which I have been heretofore a member, the interstate and foreign commerce committee."

Whether there will be delay in the organization of the house and senate appeared today to depend largely on the attitude to be taken by the progressive blocs.

Withdrawal of Representative Graham of Illinois, from the majority leadership fight in the house served to remove differences among the regular republicans but the demands of the progressives still were unsatisfied, and their leaders were insistent that they would be pressed even to the extent of blocking house organization.

Republican and democratic representation on senate committees will be the subject of a conference soon between Senators Lodge of Massachusetts, the majority leader, and Robinson, Arkansas, the minority leader. It is expected that the present representation of ten and six will be changed to nine and seven, because of the re-

2½ Foot Pie Features Feast at White House

WASHINGTON. — Officials in Washington, most of the government employes who work under them and the other residents of the capital, gathered "in their homes and in their usual places of worship" for their annual observance of Thanksgiving and did justice, as they saw fit, to the traditional turkey dinner.

President and Mrs. Coolidge observed the day strictly in accord with the spirit of simple Thanksgiving suggested by the president in his proclamation. They had invited several personal friends for dinner after attending special services in the First Congregational church. They purchased their own turkey, having decided not to accept the usual gift of choice birds, but their pumpkin pie, two and one-half feet in diameter, was presented to them by an admiring local chef who was aware of Mr. Coolidge's liking for such pastry.

CRACK PASSENGER TRAINS OF SOUTH CRASH; ONE DEAD

Engineer of Southern's K. C. Special Dies in Collision in Georgia

SIX PASSENGERS HURT BUT NONE VERY BADLY

Fireman Says He and Dead Driver Both Jumped

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — Engineer John Evans of the Southern Railway's Kansas City special was killed and fifteen or twenty passengers on the Louisville & Nashville's "Southland," were injured slightly Wednesday night when the Southern train collided with the rear end of the "Southland" at Nahunta, Ga.

About six of the injured were taken to the Waycross hospital, the dispatcher's office said, and none of them is believed to be seriously hurt. The fireman on the Kansas City special jumped before the collision and suffered minor injuries.

Train at Macon

MACON, Ga.—The derailed Kansas City special train over the Southern Railway, wrecked at Nahunta, Ga., arrived in Macon at 7:30 o'clock Thursday morning, bringing the body of Engineer John H. Evans of Macon, who was the only person killed in the wreck. Engineer Evans lived at Macon. His negro fireman, named Hicks, accompanied the body to Macon. The negro is not hurt, with the exception of a few bruises. The negro said that he and Engineer Evans both jumped just before colliding with the rear end of the Southland.

None Badly Hurt

ATLANTA, Ga.—None of the six men who were brought to the Waycross hospital following the wreck at Nahunta are seriously injured, according to reports received from the hospital officials over long distance telephone.

The two trains, which are two of the largest operated in the southern states, carry heavy passenger lists at this time of the year and many were shaken up badly.

GETTLE TO FLORIDA

MADISON—Chairman L. E. Gettle of the railroad commission will leave on Saturday for Miami, Fla., where he will attend a meeting of the National Association of Railroad and Public Utilities Commissioners.

COUNTY BOARD TO MEET ON FRIDAY; SESSION NEAR END

Appropriations Passed Thursday for Road and Bridge Work in Towns

$200 IS APPROPRIATED FOR LOSEY BOULEVARD IN CITY

Wording of Causeway Resolution is Changed

The county board adjourned late Wednesday, to meet again Friday morning. Efforts are being made to finish up the annual meeting on Friday.

Among the appropriations made Wednesday afternoon are the following items: $250 for the county traveling library; $469 for the Fischer bridge, town of Farmington; $2,500 for Oehler's bridge, town of Shelby; $395 for bridges in town of Barre; $1,500 for Sweden Coulee road, town of Hamilton; $250 for upper Sweden Coulee road, town of Onalaska; $500 for County Trunk Highway E, town of Farmington; $575 for County Trunk Highway T, town of Farmington; $200 for Losey Boulevard, La Crosse.

The Losey Boulevard appropriation was the only road or bridge appropriation adopted Wednesday. The need for each appropriation was given a thorough airing before the board. Scarcely an item came up that was not made a debatable question.

The committees on roads and bridges and finance, having under consideration the proposed changes in the causeway, from Bantam street to Rose street, offered an amendment to the resolution so it would read "paid in constructing" instead of grading and that no payments from the funds be made available until the city has provided funds necessary to complete the project and the project has progressed to a point satisfactory to the board.

LEAVES SCHOOL $12,000

APPLETON, Wsi.—Lawrence college will receive $12,000 from the estate of the late Mrs. Lucy Ormsby, widow of David Ormsby of this city, under the will just admitted to probate. Other bequests include $1,000 to the Methodist church at Pewaukee.

PLAN HATCHERY

CRANDON, Wis.—Assemblyman J. D. Grandine, R. A. Elder and Fred Rogers were appointed by the Forest county board as a committee to arrange for the purchase of a site for the fish hatchery which the state proposes to build in this county next spring.

AUTO DIVES TO RAILS AND FIVE ARE KILLED WHEN TRAIN HITS WRECK

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Three men and two women were killed and one man seriously injured early Thursday, when their automobile crashed through an iron railing protecting a large air opening in a Reading railroad tunnel, plunged thirty-five feet to the tracks below and was crushed by a milk train that came along a little later.

The dead, residents of this city, were:

Catherine Graham, 24, Catherine Kelly, 26, Harry Graham, 34, James O'Neil, 33, James McGee. The injured man is Harry Pearson.

By grim coincidence the engineman of the locomotive is a neighbor and friend of three of those who were killed.

A policeman saw the automobile approach the tunnel opening and disappear. He fired his pistol to summon other policemen and started for the railroad signal tower to stop trains. He was a moment too late, however, for the milk train passed the tower just before a signal was set against it. When rescuers reached the wreckage in the smoky tunnel four of the six who were in the machine were dead. Catherine Kelly died in a hospital.

THREE SHOT WHEN FARMER ATTACKS HUNTERS ON LAND

Two of Rabbit Trailers and the Owner Wounded in Shot-gun Duel

SPORTSMEN CLAIM OWNER GAVE THEM NO WARNING

Declare They Shot Afterwards in Self-defense

ST. PAUL, Minn.—Two men and a boy all of this city, while hunting rabbits near Isanti, about thirty miles north of here, were, shot, one seriously Wednesday by a farmer who, in turn, was shot by the hunters when the farmer is alleged to have opened fire upon the men for trespassing on his land.

The hunters, Bert Vadnais, his fourteen-year-old son, Clarence, and John Fernando, following their dogs, found themselves on land owned by Emil Shorks, 62 years old, farmer, who without notice, according to the St. Paul men, opened fire upon them. When the hunters attempted to approach Shorks and explain their presence upon his land, they say the farmer fired at them, seriously injuring Vadnais. Then men, according to their story, then fired in self-defense.

According to the hunters there was no sign posted on Shorks' property prohibiting hunting and they will swear out a warrant for the farmer charging him with assault.

NEW RUM CHASER ON LAKE MICHIGAN

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — A new speedboat to be used in the capture of rum runners on Lake Michigan is to be added to the fleet of the coast-guard here, according to announcement made by Acting Captain Nels Jacobson.

The boat will be 32 feet long, of cruiser type, and built for speed.

DAUGHERTY ASSERTS RESPECT FOR DRY LAW IS INCREASING

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Greater application of the "padlock" provision of the prohibition law, invocation of the tariff act and the co-operation of "concerted forces" against violators, Attorney General Daugherty declared in a statement published Thursday, have brought about "advancing results."

Respect for the prohibition laws, Mr. Daugherty says, is increasing, and increase in enforcement by state officials has been "particularly marked since the recent conference of governors called by President Coolidge." The latter is especially true, he adds, in connection with activities under the tariff act against border smugglers in Michigan, where it has been made possible to "get" these "bootleggers" under one charge if another fails.

WINTER SPRINKLING URGED TO COUNTERACT LONG FALL DROUGHT

OSHKOSH, Wis.—Horticulturalists here are advising Winnebago county growers of orchard and other trees, shrubs and plants to do considerable artificial watering in order to prevent winter killing. It is claimed the long period of drouth this fall has left the soil so dry that heavy frosts are likely to damage the roots of growing things, the moisture in the roots cracking them. It is claimed the situation is worse than in any year since 1880. Many wells on farms have gone dry and farmers are hauling water for stock.

NO DEVELOPMENT IS REPORTED IN POISON DEATH

Police had no new development to report in the case of Glen Vang, aged 19, Prosper, Minn., whose death was caused early Wednesday morning by poison liquor.

The four men, Herold and Roy Loomis, brothers, John Whipple and Ira Anderson, companions of Vang in the orgy which resulted in the death of the latter, were being held at the county jail.

Sheriff Ben Lund stated Thursday morning that they had not been questioned regarding the source of the liquor since their confinement in the county institution Wednesday noon.

JAPANESE FORM LABOR PARTY ON LINES OF BRITISH

TOKIO, Nov. 8.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—A labor party, similar to the British parliamentary labor party, which includes professional as well as workingmen, has been organized in Japan as a result of the government's decision to grant universal manhood suffrage.

MERCHANTS PLAN TO ENTERTAIN OUTSIDE FRIENDS

Neighboring Towns to be Largely Represented by Visitors to Christmas Frolic

Everyone in the surrounding territory is invited to take part in the third annual Christmas Frolic, which takes place in La Crosse Friday evening, November 30, at 8 o'clock. Word has been received that several large groups of friends from neighboring towns will participate in that colorful event, which will officially usher in the Christmas season.

While the stores will be open from 8 to 9 on Friday evening, it will be unnecessary to bring purses or wallets, for nothing will be sold. The only reason for having the stores open is to give the first glimpse at the new things for the holiday season, and to pass out tickets to those who wish to participate in the awarding of the prizes which will me displayed in great profusion in all the windows.

The committee appreciates the fact that not all of those who hold tickets, particularly in the out-of-town districts, will be able to be with us Friday night. For that reason, the prizes will be left in the windows for several days, in order that all may have the chance to participate.

Santa Arrives at Noon

Mr. William Doerflinger, who heads the committee that will welcome Santa Claus, announces that the patron saint of Yuletide will arrive at noon. His special train will come into the Burlington depot. In a radio-gram to Mr. Doerflinger, Santa Claus says: "Tell the children that my train arrives from the south. There is a Burlington train arriving from the north about noon, but that is not the one I am coming on. My train has to wait in the yards until the Burlington train has pulled out. Last year many kiddies thought I was on the train from the north and rushed out onto the tracks in front of the train, and there were many narrow escapes from injury. Tell them to wait until my train comes in FROM THE SOUTH." This message is published in full so that everyone will know just when Santa Claus will arrive.

FIND SHELL-SHOCKED SON IN ASYLUM IN MINNESOTA AFTER SEARCH SINCE 1918

MARSHFIELD, Wis.—One of the strange stories growing out of the world war was told here Thursday when Mr. and Mrs. James Christensen, of Spencer, returned from Fergus Falls, Minn., where they had located their son Willard Christensen, a victim of shell shock, in an asylum, and cleared up a mystery of five years' standing.

Willard, now 36, enlisted in Company A, 127th infantry, and went overseas with the Red Arrow division. In October, 1918, he was sent back from France to the United States as an instructor, and assigned to Camp Lewis.

The last seen of Willard was when he boarded a car in Seattle on his way back to camp. Federal agents were put on his trail and a country-wide search began. After two years the hunt was abandoned and his case was dropped.

Now it develops that he had been in an asylum at Fergus Falls. It is believed that he was seized with a mental lapse on his way back to camp and wandered into Minnesota, where he was finally picked up and committed to the asylum six months after he vanished. Asylum authorities say that his mental state at the time he was entered in the institution three years ago, was such that he was unable to give them the least hint as to his identity until recently in delirium he mentioned Marshfield, Wis., which caused the hospital authorities to communicate with his home town.

NINTH RESERVE DISTRICT HELD IN FINE SHAPE

Declares Grain Prices Show Unusual Stability Under Conditions

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—The credit situation in general in the ninth federal reserve district, has improved, despite the fact that banking conditions in some localities have not been altogether satisfactory, according to the conclusions reached by John H. Rich, federal reserve agent, in his monthly letter issued Wednesday.

Stability of grain prices in the face of declining exports as compared with a year ago, is remarkable, Mr. Rich's report adds. Business activity in the cities during October last year, and prospective business activity remains practically unchanged. Livestock receipts at South St. Paul were fully one fourth greater than in October a year ago, and grain receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth-Superior terminals declined about one-fifth compared with the preceding month.

A survey completed this month by the federal reserve bank of all banks in this district, dating back to 1919, shows that deposits have been rising steadily since June, 1921, and that loans have been declining since June, 1920.

ALASKA AIMS TO CREATE TRADE BALANCE IN FAVOR OF TERRITORY

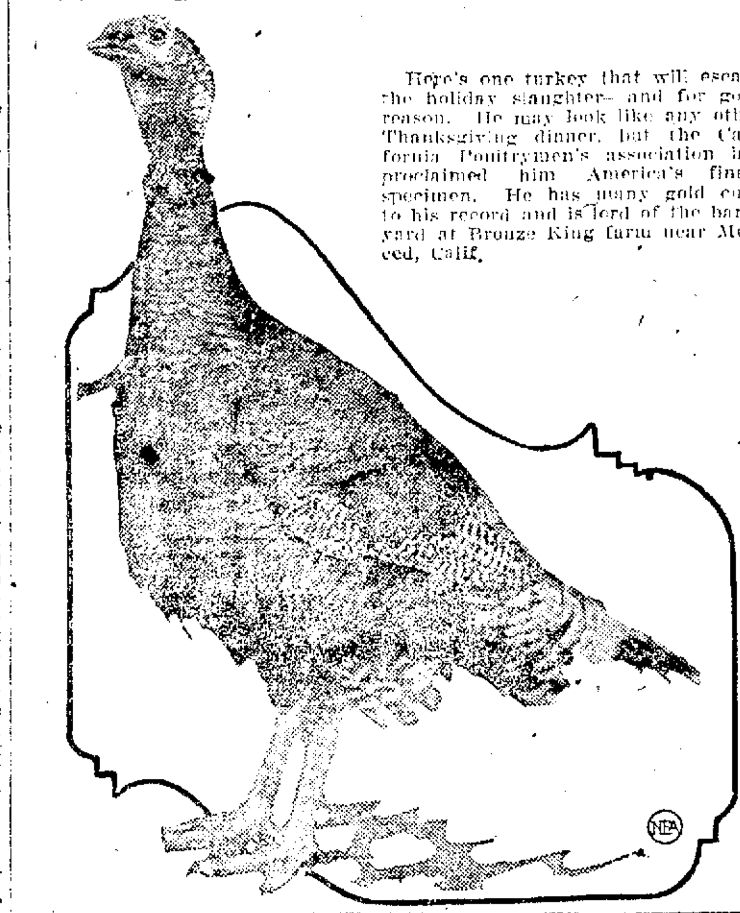

ANCHORAGE, Alaska.—By The Associated Press—Alaska used to buy all its manufactured articles in the United States, depending for commercial existence solely on its ores and placer gold, fisheries and furs, which found a ready export market. But now the vast territory is turning its attention to industrial enterprises, with a view of cutting down imports and increasing exports.

The government railroad promises to make Anchorage a commercial center. Among the projects under way here is a birch wood manufacturing plant, where furniture and other staple articles will be turned out. A birch logging mill is planned. There are millions of feet of birch timber adjacent to the railroad and tidewater, and industrialists intend to export finished lumber instead of crude logs.

A REMARKABLE SHOW WINDOW

One of the most remarkable show windows ever shown in La Crosse is the Boyer-Furber Furniture Company's window. They are having a Sellers Kitchen Cabinet sale, and are giving a quantity of groceries free, furnished by our home business firms, with each Sellers Kitchen Cabinet sold this week. This is something new and different in advertising, and it's worth your trip down town to see it. They have Mr. Morehead, special factory representative from the Sellers factory, with them this week to give a thorough demonstration of the Sellers Kitchen Cabinet. Mr. Morehead has made a thorough study of the needs and duties of the housewife in the kitchen and has many ideas that will help to eliminate work.—Adv.

THIS BIRD HAS NO FEAR OF AX

Here's one turkey that will escape the holiday slaughter—and for good reason. He may look like any other Thanksgiving dinner, but the California Poultrymen's association has proclaimed him America's finest specimen. He has many gold cups to his record and is lord of the barnyard at Bronze King farm near Merced, Calif.

Public Debate

ROAD COURTESY?

La Crosse, Wis., Nov. 26, 1923.

Dear Editor: This happened on the night of the grand opening at the Winter Gardens.

Having no car of our own, of course we had to depend on the bus. But that was crowded with others returning home and we decided instead of waiting fifteen minutes longer for the next trip, that we could and would walk home in that time. After walking over half way to Jackson street and having several cars pass us, we were suddenly lifted off the road by a Jewett touring car, bearing license number [illegible], whose owner—or driver—whichever he was, took particular care in securing his license to conceal his whereabouts.

My husband was hurled in the air and [illegible] and then bumped again, and I was dragged along several feet. Our clothes were torn and dirty and we were badly shaken up.

The driver stopped to see if we were hurt. He said he couldn't see where he was going, there was frost on his windshield. He had no right to be driving if he couldn't see, is my idea. After discovering we were still able to stand, he [illegible] and drove away [illegible] offering a lift.

About five or six cars stopped, naturally some even tooted for us to move away and let them by. They all wanted to know what had happened, and after having their curiosity satisfied, [illegible]. A big limousine carrying two women, also stopped; but they just wanted to know what had happened. "Curiosity once killed a cat" so the old saying goes.

But all I wanted to say, as a pedestrian was, that I think perhaps some people in La Crosse who own cars might buy a book on etiquette and perhaps learn a little. In some states [illegible] of "road courtesy" or some such thing, but around La Crosse all one hears is honk, honk—"keep off the street"—"keep off the road." In other words if you don't own a car stay at home.

ONE WHO DOESN'T OWN A CAR.

BRITISH PRESS IS VEXED BY YANKEE RUM-SHIP CAPTURE

LONDON.—The seizure of the British schooner Tomoka off the New Jersey coast is attracting considerable notice in the London press. The Morning Post thinks the incident unfortunate and that the delay in connection with the British-American treaty modifying the three-mile limit has been marked by "the illegal seizure of British vessels engaged in what may not be an honorable but certainly not an illegal occupation."

FEAR EPIDEMIC OF CONSULAR BOMBINGS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Philadelphia police investigating the recent bombing of the Italian and Spanish consulates in that city were said in a report to the state department Tuesday to be working on the theory that the attack was a threat of more serious activities to come.

A meeting in Philadelphia of supposed anarchists, held about a week ago, is being investigated. The police, however, were said to believe that the perpetrators of the Philadelphia bombing came from some other city.

A Way of Thanksgiving

THIS country was appalled a few months ago over the Japanese earthquake with its toll of more than 100,000 lives, and millions of dollars were contributed for the relief of the stricken people.

There is happening in the United States every year a tragedy, claiming an equal number of lives—a tragedy all the more pathetic because it is preventable and yet is repeated each year. This is the tragedy of tuberculosis—now known to be a curable and preventable disease—which in 1922 claimed more than 100,000 lives. And 1800 of these 100,000 victims of the White Plague were Wisconsin citizens.

Now comes the appeal for funds—not for relief—but for the prevention of this tragedy. This comes in the form of the annual Christmas Seal sale of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association, which for fifteen years has been waging an effective fight against the White Plague. Just how effective the fight has been is best shown in the death rate from tuberculosis, which has been reduced 37 per cent in fifteen years, and in 1922 alone it is estimated that over 1000 lives were saved.

Experts estimate that there are more than 16,000 active cases of tuberculosis in Wisconsin. To find these in the early and most curable stages is one purpose of the free chest clinics of the association, and more than 31,000 examinations have been held since the work started. Hundreds of unsuspected cases of incipient tuberculosis have been discovered and through proper treatment the disease has been nipped in the bud. Hundreds of others threatened with the disease have been saved through timely warning to building up resistance and instruction how to do it. Thousands of bodily disorders other than tuberculosis have been brought to light at these clinics. This is but one of the Christmas Seal projects. The entire educational campaign being conducted through the schools, lectures, newspapers; the training of public health workers; promoting the building of sanatoria and popularizing early treatment; promoting health legislation, are all a part of the many-sided campaign to wipe tuberculosis out of Wisconsin. What has been accomplished in the past is evidence of what is possible in the future.

The penny Christmas Seal furnishes the sole support of all this work and so democratic is the fund-raising method that everyone, no matter how small his or her means—can contribute something to help drive tuberculosis out of Wisconsin.

Static

SEVEN HUNDRED and fifty families in France have qualified for the decoration presented by the government to families which have maintained ownership in the same land for three centuries. One family was found which has held the same land since 772, in the time of Charlemagne.

Perhaps it is a characteristic commentary on American reaction to such conditions that the printer who set up the item brought it back to the desk for correction. He thought that date must be 1772—a period of more than a thousand years of ownership of one piece of land was manifestly impossible, from his point of view. It seems incredible as well to most of us. Probably there is not a dozen families in this whole nation who can trace their present holdings back a hundred years, and no doubt even in those parts of the continent where white settlement dates back three hundred years there is not one who could qualify under the French terms, were such a decoration offered by the state.

"Ancestral acres" is a phrase without emotional content for Americans. Ownership of a piece of land is valued in terms of re-sale value or productive capacity, and not much beside. Perhaps this difference in fundamental ways of life helps to explain some of the differences in thinking which make it so hard for Americans to understand European conditions. Life in Europe is static, moving in fixed grooves that govern the thought as well as the conduct of men. In the United States we do not find it hard to visualize a new world order, shaped more nearly to the heart's desire. In Europe such a thing seems as unreal and impossible as a fairy story. They have lived and fought and saved for centuries just where they are, with no chance of doing aught else. Not for them the sudden stroke of luck which every American subconsciously expects to change his fortunes overnight; not for them a speculation of audacious ingenuity to lift the inventor by his own bootstraps. To them such things don't happen; they cannot believe they can be made to happen, either to themselves or to their country.

You can't impress the glorious possibilities of a change in established things upon the head of a family which has sat tight for more than a thousand years on the same little piece of land; at least it cannot be done speedily. Because we have seen this continent change in the memory of one generation from wilderness to the most highly civilized—physically—of any land in the world, we Americans are inclined to think that quick improvement is the normal thing. It isn't. Improvement in the greater part of the world is a slow, a painfully slow process. The United States, in its whole history and development, is a gorgeously fortunate combination of all the good luck imaginable. It is no wonder we are optimistic—and no wonder that other countries have not the same invincible faith in their destinies and possibilities.

Tom Sims Says:

Don't throw away your old gloves now. They are good for a few more miles. You may get new ones Christmas.

Christmas is better than New Year. We don't have to make good resolutions and see the good die young.

How about your enemies? Give them Christmas presents such as folding beds, saxophones and prunes.

Do you know a carpenter? Punch a hole in your roof and let him fix it. Make him happy for Christmas.

Horses used to get scared when they saw an auto. Now they get scared when they don't see any auto.

You will get some handkerchiefs for Christmas. Now is the time to catch cold so you can use them.

The laundry folks need Christmas presents. Sew a million buttons on a shirt for them to tear off.

Make people happy this Christmas. Break up your old phonograph records to make neighbors happy.

Turkey For One

By H. LOUIS RAYBOLD

"Back to the farm for Thanksgiving!" Diana's ejaculation was actually a short of disgust as she cast from her the weekly newspaper whose sentimental editorial was advocating a "good old-fashioned holiday in the country for jaded city dwellers."

"Back to the farm! Why, the thankfulest Thanksgiving I could possibly spend would be right in the city's heart with the snowy pavements' the crammed and decorated windows, the lively holiday crowds. Here in the country—bah!" Two great tears, gathered in her purple-blue eyes. After all, Diana was only just past twenty, in spite of the fact that she was principal of the Sanford grammar school, Sanford Corners, Sanford township.

To be sure the title outweighed the office. The grammar school was really such only through courtesy, for its dingy white walls encompassed children of every age and grade, from toddling "first readers" to gangly youths who attended only when farm duties were not pressing. As for Diana's position as principal, that mark of distinction only served to differentiate her from her one youthful assistant, sandy-haired Louisa Baldwin, who filled in where needed.

Fresh from Normal school, Diana had been lured to this particular job through a teachers' agency; had found it worse than she had feared; had grimly resolved to grit her teeth and see it through for one year specified in her contract. Successively she had fought desperate boredom, fifty undisciplined children, and the digestive perils of "boarding around." The latter had all but proved her undoing. Rebelling finally against heavy breakfasts of fried potatoes and ham; against an overabundance of crullers and pork and pies, she had made arrangements to rent a tiny room with an oil stove and attend to her own culinary arrangements.

Just now she was visualizing Thanksgiving in her nine by ten bedroom. Could she possibly imbue it with a festive atmosphere and concoct anything worth the eating on two burners that didn't always function properly?

Then, as she gathered her papers and books together for school, she put the thought of the holiday resolutely out of her mind. Better to concentrate all her energies on preparation for the expected visit of the new superintendent of schools, reputed to be a proverbial new broom and exacting in his demands.

Strange to say, young Richard Dempster was totally oblivious of the awe he inspired as he made his rounds of the countryside. A little shaky himself as to his own qualifications, his one idea was to clothe himself in sufficient dignity to cloak any shortcomings. On the afternoon that he visited the Sanford road school, his thoughts, not unlike Diana's, had turned Thanksgivingward. Quite different would be this particular holiday than the one he spent last year with a bunch of the fellows at his fraternity house. Like Diana again, he was without close kin or definite home.

"Thanksgiving at Sanford Corners—ugh!" Much as Diana had spoken, Dick uttered the words to himself, then threw back his shoulders and flung open the paint-scarred door of the schoolhouse.

Five minutes later he found himself conducting a class in arithmetic while Diana intrenched behind her desk, eyed him suspiciously. He was so much younger, so much better looking than she had dreamed.

What was he doing here? Why, she would actually enjoy talking with him at the close of school—if only her head didn't ache so!

And Richard, as he laboriously led a not very bright class along the rocky road of percentage and discounts was wondering mentally why such a slip of a girl ever tackled this particular job. If he didn't absolutely have to visit the school at Turner's Falls he would like to stay on and drive her home afterward. What starry eyes and glorious color she had!

And because she didn't stay and because Diana was consequently disappointed, because the fever which was to all but consume her was already afire in her veins, Diana bought a turkey! Passing the Dugsleys' farm she caught a sudden glimpse of a fat and strutting gobbler. Impulsively, she stopped short.

Then, "I will have that much Thanksgiving!" she said to herself defiantly. "And I'll buy him now, before—like all the cream and the sunspeckled apples and the pick of the vegetables—he is shipped off to the city."

And so Diana bought her Thanksgiving dinner, and Farmer Dugsley, after agreeing to pluck it and dress it and deliver it for a price—won in and told his wife that the new schoolma'am was as queer a little piece as ever he saw!

Thanksgiving! A day of family gatherings, of laden tables, of liveliness and cheer. Dick drew the bed clothes tight under his chin and shut his eyes deliberately. Hed sleep as much of the day away as possible. To be sure, he'd have to show up with the other boarders at dinner time and contribute his sorry bit toward pretending the meal was gay and jolly, that the chicken was as desirable and luscious as a turkey, that Mrs. Platt's prunes were "all one happy family." But—

"Mr. Dem'rest! Mr. Dem'rest! Telephone!"

Telephone! Who in thunder?

Wrapped in his dressing gown, Dick stood at the hall telephone.

"Miss Kent? Miss Diana Kent? Sanford Corners? Gosh yes! Why, no, I couldn't say as to whether she had relatives or not. Seriously? Never? Why—er—wait—I'll be over immediately."

Poor child! That pretty girl held visited, sick on Thanksgiving day among strangers. At least he could call there and see what could be done.

It was dinner time when Diana's landlady led Richard up the stairs and into the nine by ten room whence issued delectable, enticing odors.

"Insisted on cooking her own dinner," she was explaining volubly. "And her," she was explaining volubly. "And on that there stove, in that box of an oven. Everything ready but the turkey. And that's baking. And look at her!"

Huddled on her couch, Diana lay in a heavy stupor. So little so alone she looked that Richard's tender heart contracted. Abruptly he turned toward the other woman.

"She needs a doctor and a nurse at once!" he said. "And a brother!" he added softly to himself.

But it wasn't as a brother that a week later he picked up Diana's slim hand as it lay wanly on the arm of her chair. "Darling," he whispered, "you've cooked your last turkey for one, haven't you?"

And Diana assented happily.

THE DAY OF FILL-FULLMENT

BY BERTON BRALEY

There isn't any question
That overeating brings
A lot of indigestion
And other-kindred things;
But though our rules of living
Are strict and sane enough,
We sit down on Thanksgiving
And we stuff.

In brisk November weather
With diet rules ignored
The household gets together
About the groaning board.
And though the sky be murky
We care not for its gloom,
We have a portly turkey
To consume.

We're thankful for each blessing
That we have come across
("Please help me to that dressing
And more cranberry sauce").
For all our joys we're grateful
Thanksgiving is the word
("I'll take another plateful
Of that bird.")

Our duty lies before us
Friends, husbands, children, wives.
Come join in on the chorus
Of forks and spoons and knives.
Let happiness and mirth be
About the planet spread
And everyone on earth be Overfed!

DARING BANDITS STEAL $20,000 IN CROWDED SEATTLE

Stop Car, Handcuff Police Escort, and Escape With Loot

SEATTLE, Wash.—A daring and apparently well planned hold-up of two Bank of California messengers at a street intersection in the heart of Seattle's business district, late Tuesday yielded seven bandits $20,000 worth of negotiable bonds. No trace of the robbers has been found.

A motorcycle policeman accompanying the automobile containing the two messengers, who were en route to a postoffice sub-station, was manacled to the machine.

A small automobile blocked the path of the messengers' car at Jackson street and Second avenue, a crowded intersection, and two men leaped from the machine, covered the bank messengers with pistols and snatched two satchels containing the bonds and checks being sent to other banks from the bank car. Two other men, apparently their confederates, stepped out from the sidewalk and handcuffed the motorcycle policeman to his machine. A fifth man prevented a pedestrian at the curb from giving aid.

GREAT PROGRESS IS MADE IN LAST HUNDRED YEARS

Herbert N. Laflin Tells What We Have to be Thankful for in this Age

Herbert N. Laflin, past president of the Milwaukee Rotary club and at present a high official of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, spoke on "What We Should Be Thankful For" at a joint luncheon of the Rotary club and the Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday.

"Three hundred years ago," according to Mr. Laflin, "a band of fifty men gathered on the eastern shores of Massachusetts. They had but shortly crossed the ocean and at least half of the band had died. Their crops had failed and their welcome to this land had been far from hospitable, and yet in this year, 1621, they rendered thanks for the blessings they had received.

"Many Thanksgivings have come and gone and now, 100,000,000 people are marching forward to greater and nobler achievements. Who dare anticipate the future, for we have just begun.

Wonders of Age

"Our fathers won this country for civilization. Where the settlers carved paths through the woods, we now find a network of highways and railroads. Tunnels pierce the mountains, bridges span the rivers, and telegraph stations and wires are scattered over the entire nation, and after 150 years of national life, in spite of adventures and trials, America stands in the forefront of nations. Tremendous advances have been made in science, art and other professions and no other period in history will compare with the one from the time that George Washington became president. This progress is due largely to the genius of men who founded this nation, those who wrote the constitution, and those who later developed the country.

"As Americans we have eliminated the word 'impossible' from our vocabulary. At first people laughed at Columbus when he stated that he believed he could reach the east by sailing westward. He sailed and discovered America. People said that Edison couldn't light the world with his filaments of clay. Now we have merely to press a button and the darkness of night becomes bright as day.

Clean Up Canal Zone

"They said the Panama canal could not be built because of the insanitary conditions in that region. At that time we had a president who did not know the meaning of the word impossible. He sent sanitary engineers down there and cleaned up the zone. Some said we couldn't fight, but that story is too new. Suffice to say, the United States sent an army to France and Flander's Fields, that was the grandest that ever fought a battle on the face of the earth.

"Think of the long, weary months required to penetrate the western wilds of the country in the olden days. Recently the distance from coast to coast was made in twenty-seven hours.

"While we are pausing today to think of the things to be thankful for we should remember that we have a form of government that is the freest and fairest of governments. We can best show our real thankfulness by contributing in our own day and age, sacrifice, talent and ability as those in days gone by. Service labor is the most constructive form of life. Labor gives life its great romance."

Mr. Laflin sketched ancient accomplishments during the time when Rome and Greece were in their prime, and said they proclaim the triumphant march of labor.

All Must Labor

"The world pins no decorations on the lounge lizard, the intellectual vagabond or the loafer," continued the speaker. "The great souls who have made a great contribution have labored not for themselves but to discharge some great duty to mankind.

"True happiness is found not in its quest or pursuit but in knowledge, truth and rendering service to community, state and nation."

LISTEN WHILE THE SELLERS KITCHEN CABINET SPEAKS

What a difference these days; most men ride to and from their business and have every available appliance to conduct their affairs properly. Then buy her a Sellers Kitchen Cabinet this week at Boyer-Furber's and brighten her pathway day by day. They fill your cabinet, they fill your bin, and on Saturday night, this sale ends. —Adv.

FIFTY ACRES AND MAN WHO WON'T SELL BLOCK FORD WATER POWER PLAN

MADISON, Wis.—One man promises to give the Ford interests in Wisconsin plenty of trouble although Ford has millions and the man, Guy Neely, declared that he is poor.

Ford, through his son, Edsel, as the head of the Ford Hydro-Electric company, is attempting to establish a $1,500,000 power plant on the Menominee river to supply his automobile factory at Ironwood, Mich., with electricity.

50 Acres Obstacle

Neely and other heirs control 413 acres along the river bank. Ford, acting through Max Sells, district attorney of Florence county as his agent, has purchased all of the land needed except the flowage rights on about 50 acres owned by Neely.

Attempts to purchase the land from Neely have failed. Attempts to have Neely say what he considered a fair price on the land have also proven futile.

The railroad commission will give the Ford concern a franchise for the development of the water power site but as long as Neely owns the land and objects no water can be backed up on his property, according to commissioners. Without the right to back up the stream the water power franchise would be practically useless.

Claim "Hold-up"

The Ford interests are stumped and are again attempting to negotiate with Neely. Attorney William Ryan for the Ford interests intimated on the hearing before the commission on Tuesday that he believed Neely was "trying to hold up Ford." Neely on Tuesday refused to consider leaving the matter to arbitration of a disinterested board.

The railroad commission will now fix an average valuation although Neely will be bound in no way by such a valuation. It was pointed out that the company might organize the project as a public utility and then would have the right to condemn the land.

After Other Sites?

Ford agents are declared to be working secretly purchasing other water power sites in Wisconsin for future development. It is claimed that Ford now owns extensive property for such purposes in the state.

NO TRAIN FAULT IN LOCKETT WRECK

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Interstate commerce commission safe inspectors who investigated the Burlington railroad wreck at Lockett, Wyoming, on September 27, reported Wednesday that no evidence of defective train equipment had appeared. Twenty-one bodies were recovered and ten persons still are listed as missing.

The inspectors decided that the accident was due either to the bridge being washed away by high water or being so weakened as to cause collapse.

TRUCKS COMPLY WITH NEW LAW

MADISON, Wis. — Practically all trucks in the state have complied with the new weight tax license law according to A. J. Cashan, in charge of the state auto license bureau.

Most of the trucks were not required to register under the new law. All motor trucks which had paid a $15 license fee under the old law were not required to re-register. A 25 percent reduction was allowed truck owners because the licenses were to apply for but part of the year.

It had at first been proposed to make all truck owners re-register but to avoid complications only those were called in whose machines must pay a larger fee than provided under the old law.

The bulk of the revenue will not materialize from the new auto license law until next year. No private passenger cars paid fees under the law this year, although buses and trucks come under the provisions of the law in July.

FEW PAUPERS IN STATE SHOWN BY ASYLUM RECORDS

Five Times as Many Men as Women in Public Institutions

MADISON, Wis. — The trail that leads over the hill to the poor house in Wisconsin has become unpopular.

The inevitable destination of those whom fate finds bent and worn out, without savings, without means of support and without hope is being inhabited by a gradually decreasing number.

The number of people forced into poor houses fluctuates from year to year but the year 1916 remains as the record for poor house occupancy when 1,974 people dwelt in the pauper institutions with death as their only goal.

Only 1,700 Now

The poor houses now have a population of little over 1,700 although this was an increase over 1,631 for 1920.

These people are housed in 49 county and four city poor houses.

Old age bringing disability is the most common cause of bringing people to poor houses although many of the institutions have many specimens of human wreckage where age is not a factor.

The majority of people in poor houses are over 60 years of age, although half as many are of ages between 16 and 60. Then there is a class of pauper under the age of five. These are usually children born to inmates.

Mostly Men

Records of poor houses in the state for the last five years indicate that women average five times as high in thrift as men. An average of all the institutions shows there is annually about five times as many male paupers as women.

One of the reasons advanced for the gradually declining poor house population in spite of the swelling in state population is the increase in the number of occupations that people who are suffering with only an old age handicap can engage.

Many Escape

On an average from 10 to 60 people who have been committed to poor houses watch their opportunity and escape annually, according to the state board's records. Whenever they are able the inmates of the institutions are put to work on such duties about the house or farm as they are able to perform.

The 49 trails "over the hill" lead to a great variety of institutions. Some of the counties have modern buildings run in connection with the rest of the county buildings while many almshouses consist of but an ordinary farm house that has been purchased for that purpose, with poor lighting and heating equipment.

"GOT WRONG MAN" STATEMENT MAKES TRIAL SENSATION

Words Attributed to Defendant Related by Witness in Prairie du Chien Case

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis.—Trial of Otto and Henry Oestreich and John Jackson, charged with first degree murder in connection with the death of John Strand, killed last July 4, is nearing the end in Judge S. E. Smalley's court here.

The Oestreichs and Jackson, commerical fishermen, after making a haul that morning, came home from McGregor well loaded with moonshine, it was testified, and engaged in several fights with some other fishermen. About noon Strand who had been fishing down the river alone, came along and joined them.

At Their Houseboat

He was last seen alive while in their company at the houseboat where the Oestreichs and Jackson lived.

J. D. and T. J. Smith, Jesuit teachers on vacation at Campion college passed the place and discovered Strand's body in the water alongside the houseboat and near his own boat. At the coroner's inquest the accused men denied having seen Strand that day. All are held under $10,000 bail each.

Last Friday the body of Strand was exhumed and examined. This was done at the instance of the defense attorneys.

The jury has four women and eight men, all farmers or farmers' wives. A panel of forty-seven was exhausted before the jury was secured. The trial started Monday morning.

Words Sensation

A sensation was sprung by the prosecution when Jess Muzich, a poultry dresser, declared, under oath, he heard Jackson say after the tragedy "We made a mistake, we got the wrong man." Mrs. Anna Krautman corroborated Muzich's statement.

Counsel asked that the jury be taken from the room while certain motions were made. District Attorney Earll then asked that Otto Oestreich be discharged, as his innocence was proven, which was done.

BEYERSTADTS TO BROADCAST A CONCERT SUNDAY

Beyerstadt Brothers' orchestra, the organization which formerly played in local theaters, will give a radio concert Sunday afternoon at Fargo, North Dakota. The concert will be broadcasted from station WDAY and is scheduled to start at four o'clock.

This organization gave another concert last Sunday from the same station. Local people interested in hearing "Ben" and "Art" and their group of high class musicians should make the best of this opportunity of hearing them again.

HAMON'S DAUGHTER CABARET SINGER

CHICAGO, Ill.—Olive Bell Hamon, daughter of the late Jake L. Hamon, Oklahoma oil man, and republican politician, has joined the beauty chorus at the Marigold Gardens.

Miss Hamon, a possessor of musical talent, was listed in the chorus as "Miss Freddie Worth," according to the Chicago Tribune, which quoted her as saying: "If that story goes into the paper it just won't be the truth. I'll deny every word of it. I'll leave the show and Chicago, too."

AGREE TO FARMER REPRESENTATION IN LOWER HOUSE

duced republican majority in the senate, but it is suggested that the republicans may seek to make an exception in the case of the finance and interstate commerce committees.

Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, a leader of the progressive bloc, is the ranking member of both of these committees and republicans say that should he vote with the democrats as they would expect him to do on most questions, a deadlock would ensue.

STUDENTS DROP "U" FOR HOMESICKNESS

MADISON, Wis.—"Home sickness" drives many students out of school according to W. D. Hiestand, registrar, and he holds this the pricipal reason for students voluntarily severing their connections with the university.

Sickness, the change of the weather and the fact that students do not take proper care of themselves when away from home are other causes for the departure of students, Mr. Hiestand declared. A total of 87 students have withdrawn from the university since the publication of the student directory.

LONG TRIPS CHEAPER

A bale of cotton can be shipped from Savannah to New York city for less money than it will cost to take it from the hull of the vessel and transfer it to a warehouse in Brooklyn. Likewise it costs less to haul, for instance, a cargo from Havana to Boston (1,300 miles) than to shift it from one pier to another in the Massachusetts city after it arrives.

MUSIC PROFESSOR DISCOVERS SOURCE OF "YES, NO" SONG

CHICAGO, Ill.—Prof. Rollin Pease of the Northwestern University School of Music, Wednesday slipped the sad news to the Men's club of Evanston that the tune of "Yes We Have No Bananas," is at least forty years old.

"It's a combination," he explained, of 'Peter Peter, Pumpkin Eater,' and 'Bring Back My Bonnie To Me.'" He rendered a vocal illustration that was conclusive.

WET CELEBRATION AT NEENAH HIGH STARTS CLEAN-UP

Football Mixer With Drunken Youths Leads to Social Ban

NEENAH, Wis.—All social functions at the Neenah High school have been banned for the remainder of the semester, several students suspended as the result of a "liquor celebration," of the victory won by the Red and White football team over Menasha last Saturday.

According to the school authorities about fifteen high school boys appeared at the "Victory Dance" in the school gym Saturday evening in an intoxicated condition. They made themselves conspicuous on the dance floor and were ordered to leave. The board of education was called into special session to deal with the offenders and the ban on future social events and the suspension were announced by Supt. C. F. Hedges.

NORMAL STUDENTS ARE ENTERTAINED AT BIG DINNER

Students of the La Crosse Normal school who were unable to go home for the annual Thanksgiving vacation were guests at an elaborate Thanksgiving dinner given by President F. A. Cotton this noon in the school lunch room, bout 125 students attended the event.

School was dismissed Wednesday noon and classes will not be resumed until Monday morning, about two hundred students returned home for the holidays.

MANY QUEER PROPOSALS RECEIVED BY LEAGUE

GENEVA.—Strange ideas prevail with some people as to the functions of the League of Nations. In more than one country it is regarded as a tourist agency. A Scotchman wired from Glasgow asking the League to reserve a room and bath in the best Geneva hotel and buy him a ticket to Rome. An American cabled asking for the names of good American dentists in Milan and the Hague, "as he would soon visit those cities."

Many people get provoked if their grandiose schemes are not attended to promptly. An Englishman wrote an indignant letter complaining that the council had not yet given due consideration to his unfailing scheme to determine the weather in all parts of the world months in advance. Cranks the world over flood the League with weird projects.

GERMANS EAGERLY RESUME BUYING FRENCH LUXURIES

BERLIN—French wines, French perfumes and French food supplies of various sorts came back into the German market with a rush immediately after the announcement of Chancellor Stresemann that the passive resistance in the Ruhr was at an end. Bills of fare in prominent cafes and restaurants again are being written in French, and all the signs declaring French and Belgians would not be served have been removed.

Most of the larger German hotels and cafes had extensive cellars filled with French wines. Much of this has been sold as Italian or Spanish wine during the passive resistance period, but the Spanish and Italian labels have now been replaced by French labels, and customers who have been clamoring for French wine are happier.

TRAVELING INCOGNITO EASIER

When royalty travels incognito as several princes and princesses have been doing of late in the United States, they do not necessarily try to conceal the identity. The Prince of Wales, for instance, travels in Canada as Lord Renfrew, not in the hope of escaping detection for—in fact—his coming was announced, but merely to let the public know he did not wish to be treated with all the forms and ceremonies due an exalted position.

USED POSTAL CARD AS DUN

Because he tried to collect a bill of $2.85 from another citizen, using a postal card to dun the debtor, a prominent resident at Holdenville, Oklahoma, was recently arrested on a United States commissioner's warrant. In swearing out the warrant the offended man declared he had been humiliated because the "home folks" had read the post card as it passed through the hands of the mailing and distributing force and that his reputation was impaired as a result.

BULL FIGHTING ON DECLINE

Bull fighting is on the decline in Spain according to all reports. Bull fighting was, at one time, legitimate in England, as was bear-baiting and similar blood-thirsty sports. It has been ruled out however for more than 100 years on the British Isles. Both Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth were fond of bull fights, it is said.

WISCONSIN MOTORS GET GAS AS CHEAP AS IN MOST STATES

Highest Price Engine Fuel in Country is Along Atlantic Coast

MADISON, Wis.—Tank wagon prices of gasoline in Wisconsin, according to most recent figures, shows that the state ranks favorably as having a cheap supply of gasoline as compared with other states, according to Attorney General Herman L. Ekern.

The Milwaukee tank wagon price is 12 cents a gallon while at Madison it is 12.3 cents a gallon as against prices ranking from 15 to 16 cents in New York city, Boston and Washington, D. C., and other Atlantic territory. The price ranges from 13 cents to 16 cents in the territory out of Ohio.

"It is interesting to note that the tank wagon price in Wyoming, where much of the Standard Oil gasoline sold in Wisconsin comes from is 13 cents and the tank wagon price in Oklahoma, where much of the Independent gasoline sold in Wisconsin comes from, is from 10 to 12 cents," Mr. Ekern declared.

"The tank wagon price in Dallas and San Antonio, Texas, is six cents, and in California, where a great part of the product comes from, the tank wagon price is 10 cents at Los Angeles; 11 cents at San Francisco; 12 cents at Tacoma. The price to the consumer at the service station is quite uniformly two cents above the tank wagon price."

BOOM AFTERMATH OF JAP QUAKE

OSAKA, Japan, Nov. 13.—Correspondence of The Associated Press.—Factories here are profiting as a result of the earthquake. Since the quake 177 factories in this city have found it necessary to expand their plants and increase the number of their workmen and the hours of labor to supply the demands of Tokio and district.

Complaints are heard that not so much is being done in the reconstruction of Yokohama as for Tokio, but most of the orders given here come from private firms and not from the government or municipality.

COOPERATIVE SELLING PROVES SUCCESSFUL WITH PORTUGUESE

WASHINGTON.—A band of 100 Portuguese farmers, who can neither read nor write English and who are working out their economic freedom through cooperative marketing, is engaging the attention of the Department of Agriculture.

Officials here say these Portuguese who live about Cape Cod in Massachusetts and call themselves the Cape Cod Strawberry Growers' Association, understand the true principles of cooperation. The secret of their success is a high quality product, carefully graded and packed which has created a demand that takes practically all the berries the association can market.

This year more than a million quarts of berries were marketed with a gross return of $133,000. The association has been in existence eight years.

USE OF DAIRY PRODUCTS GROWS

WASHINGTON.—Forty-nine gallons of milk, 16.1 pounds of butter, and 3.8 pounds of cheese were the average consumption of dairy products of each person in the United States during last year, statistics of the Department of Agriculture show.

Use of these commodities showed an increase over all previous years. It is estimated that a little more than one-fifth of the total money paid for food last year was spent for dairy products.

HOW DO YOU LAUGH?

A psychologist has come forward with the theory that those who laugh with a sound like "A" are loyal and frank, fond of excitement and of versatile character. Those who laugh in "E" are phlegmatic and melancholy, while those who laugh in "I" are timid but affectionate, irresolute but candid and always obliging though not of too strong a character. Very few people laugh in "U" and they are morose folks for sure.

FRENCH CATHOLIC CHURCH OBSERVES THANKSGIVING DAY

Holiday Becoming Almost French Festival Since War

PARIS. — America's Thanksgiving day has had an increasing significance for the French since the war, and is becoming almost a French festival.

The spirit and purpose of its celebration have so impressed the French church authorities that Monsignor Chapital, the coadjutor of Cardinal Dubois, arranged for a solemn high mass in the Church of St. Pierre de Chaillon under the presidency of the cardinal and in the presence of Ambassador Herrick and representatives of American organizations in Paris. The purpose of the mass, it was announced was to "associate French Catholics with the American festival of Thanksgiving day."

A special service was held in the American cathedral, with Dean Beekman officiating. Ambassador Herrick and Consul General Thackara signified their intention of being present.

The Paris post of the American Legion planned a dinner dance for tonight. Marshal Foch and Ambassador Herrick were invited. Turkey dinners were a feature at the principal hotels and at the various American clubs.

SENTENCED AT WINONA

STATE RED CROSS NEARS POST-WAR MEMBER RECORD

Call Campaign in 1923 to Set New High Levels for Membership

MILWAUKEE—With the end of the American Red Cross call but three days hence, Wisconsin chapters are piling up memberships that promise a larger return than has been experienced since the war.

The chapters throughout the state report splendid co-operation from all charitable and civic organizations. Along with these organizations the American Legion has also proved itself loyal to a worthy cause. An instance of the latter case in the action of the Guy Drews post of the American Legion at Manitowoc, Wis., which has voted $200 to boost the membership drive.

Dr. Edgar F. Riley, Platteville, Wis., director for the roll call in southern Wisconsin, reports that the hearts of the people in his district are beating in tune with the spirit of the roll call, and that there is no question of successful results. Some of his counties have requested additional supplies. Neenah, Wis., is equally sure of going over the top and has also sent for more supplies, having exhausted the supplies given to them at the beginning of the drive, according to the Red Cross officials here.

Green Bay reports four times as many $10 memberships and six times as many $5 memberships as at this time last year. Very encouraging reports come in from Menomonie, Whitewater, Berlin and Sheboygan.

Walter Davidson, manager of the cental division to which Wisconsin belongs, anticipates no difficulty in reaching the division quota of $1,000,000.

BUCK, OF 'NOWHERE,' SHOWERS COIN WHEN HELD AFTER ROBBERY

Tennessee Police Take Suspect from Train and He Rains Bank's Loot

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—A man giving his name as Buck Lacy and his address as "Nowhere," was taken from a coal car at McKenzie at two o'clock Thursday morning by a posse searching trains for the robbers who Wednesday raided the Bank of McKenzie, getting away with $10,000 or more in money and bonds.

The two bandits who raided the bank knocked Miss Anna Ray Seeberry, young bookkeeper, in the head with a pistol and forced her and two customers into the bank vault.

Had Bank Packages

When the prisoner was searched $9,100 was found hidden in various places about his clothes, $2,500 of it being in gold and the remainder in currency. No bonds were found on him. The currency was done up in packages such as banks use. The prisoner claimed to be a tramp, and to have been given the money by a man in Paris, but he has been identified by Fred Hill, Jackson taxicab driver, who was engaged by two men in Jackson to drive them a few miles out in the country and who was overpowered on the road and later thrown out of the car, bound and gagged, and also identified by F. D. Durham, one of the two customers forced by the bandits into the bank vault. Late this morning the man was being questioned by detectives from Nashville and bank officials.

COACH FINLEY'S FOOTBALL ELEVEN GIVEN ROUSING SEND-OFF

PEP AVALANCHE DESCENDS AT HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

Two Mighty Elevens Line Up for Important Battle this Afternoon

BIGGEST CROWD EVER WILL ATTEND TURKEY DAY GAME

Extra Bleachers Erected to Handle Crowds

AN AVALANCHE of fighting spirit was flooded onto the La Crosse high school football eleven in a rousing mass meeting at Central High last night, an event which was the forerunner of a battle between two mighty foes of the gridiron which this afternoon were to engage in an important encounter for highest honors in football in the state of Wisconsin.

Expect Big Crowd

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the La Crosse and Waukesha elevens, both undefeated in the state and both hoping to pass the last milestone of the season still undefeated, went into battle. When Coach Finley's charges, led by Captain Cameron, dash from the Normal field house this afternoon it is expected they would be greeted by the largest assemblage of football fans ever congregated at Normal field. Ticket sales in the downtown district surpassed all expectations, indicating a record attendance.

With the gate ticket sale being delayed until a half hour before starting time, there was a mad scramble among late purchasers for pasteboards at 1:30. The order for an early Thanksgiving dinner today was evidently general throughout the city. Scores of fans, blanket-draped, ... their arms, began assembling a full hour before the appointed time of the game.

Erect Extra Bleachers

Extra Bleachers ... to shut off the chilly breeze ... erected to accommodate the overflow from the crowded grandstands.

The pep meeting at the high school was a monstrous affair. Both the La Crosse and Waukesha teams were on the platform, with their respective coaches, Mr. Finley and Mr. Sawyer.

The feature of the evening entertainment was Mr. Scott's surprise, the "listening in" on the radio of Waukesha's pep meeting "many miles away." Speeches and yells were distinctly heard and the thousand or more students gasped with surprise as the words "came over" with clear tones.

Rehfuss Entertains

The first thing on the program was some music by "Kennie" Rehfuss and his troupe of entertainers giving several bits of jazz which went big with the crowd. Birnbaum and Shields then gave a comedy interpretation in which coaches were represented in a song sung to the tune of Mr. Gallagher and Sheehan. "Doc" Marshall and "Rudy" Schlabach gave talks in which both spoke of the wonderful spirit that was being shown by the school.

Jane Orten then gave the girls' side of the school spirit in which she summed up with the words "We are out to get Waukesha's turkey, and I hope that we also cook their goose." Cyril Beckman then spoke for the "freshies."

Superintendent McCormick gave a review of the old football teams that La Crosse high has produced and ended with the statement that the 1923 team was in his judgment, the best team ever produced by the school.

Lewis Speaks

Mr. Lewis then spoke for the faculty and begged the students to back the team throughout the entire game and give them the best support possible. Bisbee and Peterson put on another comedy skit in which both the coaches were again the butt of the jokes.

Mr. Worthington, principal of the Waukesha high school, assured the assembly that Waukesha would give La Crosse a good clean fight and then both coaches gave their little talks. The pep meeting closed with the ... by "Dinel," Birnbaum and the singing of the school song accompanied by the high school band which appeared in uniform for the first time this year.

FOUR REGULARS LOST TO BADGERS IN 1924 SEASON

Captain Below and Taft Two of Mainstays Who Will be Missing

MADISON, Wis.—Four regulars on the Badger football team will be missing from the lineup next fall when Coach Jack Ryan begins drilling his gridders, a check of the football roster shows.

Captain Marty Below and Taft are two of the mainstays of the team who are not expected to be with the Badgers again. Captain Below is a junior this year but it is said to be improbable that he will be back for football. Taft, the hard-hitting Badger fullback and punter, will be graduated next spring.

Irish, first string end, and Nichols, regular guard, are the other two Badgers who will be out of school next year. Both have completed their terms in conference competition. Several other first squad men who have not been seen in the lineup also will not resume play with Wisconsin next year.

However, Coach Ryan is said to have a wealth of material coming on from second and freshman teams. The Harmon brothers are declared to be strong contenders for places at halfback and quarter. Harold Harmon is reported to be a flash who will match well against "Red" Grange of Illinois.

WILLIAMS LEADS CITY LEAGUERS IN AVERAGE COLUMN

First Six Teams to Roll Without Handicap Beginning With Second Round

First round averages of the city bowling league have been compiled by Secretary J. G. Koblitz.

At the end of first round, John Williams holds first place, having rolled 3 games more than Gene Hunt.

The Montagues hold high average in team with total of 3009, and 5 men single game, 1040. Gene Hunt is high for three games, with 696, and Hunt, O. Erickson and Mickelstad are tied for high single game with 255.

Beginning with the second round, the first six teams will roll without handicap against the last six teams with handicap, and as soon as a team in the lower division gets into the first division, they will have to roll without handicap. The purpose of this is to give the weaker team a better change against the leaders in winning a game.

NEARLY $2,000,000 RECEIPTS FROM FOOTBALL WILL ASSURE GREATER LINE OF MINOR SPORTS

CHICAGO, Ill.—By The Associated Press.—Minor sports in Big Ten conference universities are finding today a day of Thanksgiving with the knowledge that football receipts for the past season have assured them a more extensive and happy existence.

The nearly $2,000,000 that approximately 1,000,000 spectators paid to see Western conference grid teams clash this year, not only goes to defray football expenses but supports in a large measure other forms of athletics, and intra-mural sports within the institutions.

Thus an increasing number of minor sports can be added to the University schedules, giving opportunity to more students to participate with resultant advantage to themselves.

In addition, excess funds are going to build stadiums in some of the schools and gymnasiums in others, while in still other places athletic equipment is being renewed.

A large share of any funds available after defraying football expenses is used to make up for losses in track and baseball, neither of which is self supporting in most of the institutions.

During the football season just closed reports show that record-breaking crowds were drawn. Michigan and Chicago led with 183,000 attending the six Michigan home games and 163,000, the six Chicago contests at Stagg field. Ohio State had 148,000, Illinois had crowds totalling 117,000 more than half of them crowding into their new stadium to see the Chicago-Illinois contest November 3. Wisconsin reported that 65,000 saw games in her stands, while Iowa, Minnesota, and Northwestern each had large attendance at their games.

THOUSANDS POUR INTO LAWRENCE FOR BIG GRID BATTLE

LAWRENCE, Kan.—Thousands of Missourians and Kansans poured into Lawrence Thursday morning for the annual clash Thursday afternoon between the Missouri Tiger and the Kansas Jaw-hawk.

By all calculations, Kansas will go into the fray a heavy favorite.

Past performances mean little however, when the two elevens get together on the field and the Tigers have been primed for a desperate battle.

ST. LOUIS WELL PREPARED TO MEET NOTRE DAME TODAY

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—St. Louis university was well prepared to meet the strong Notre Dame football team here Thursday afternoon, following a strenuous workout Wednesday, while on the other hand, the South Bend eleven seemed to be resting.

A record attendance is expected. Seating capacity of the park is figured at 20,000.

Styles in men's clothing from 1822 to 1922 were exhibited by the National Clothers' convention in Chicago recently.

ONLY TWENTY MEN OUT FOR MILWAUKEE BASKETBALL QUINT

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—By The Associated Press.—Coach Barney Anderson of Milwaukee State Normal school will face a difficult task this season in building up a basketball team. According to Director of Athletics George E. Downer, the smallest squad in history of the school has manifest a desire to get into the tryouts. Only twenty candidates have presented themselves so far. The team is without a captain, as yet, and only three regulars are assured Anderson. These are Al Blizer, guard, Milwaukee; Kermit Schweers, guard, Shawano, and Paul Martineau, center, Oconto. Notwithstanding material handicap, Anderson may surprise the conference with a grade A team, as he is known as a clever basketball coach and all-round trainer of men. He hales from Rockford, Ill., and is a graduate of the American College of Physical Education, Chicago.

Anderson was coach and director of athletics at Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter, Minn., for two years. He has been in his present position at Milwaukee Normal for four year.

A schedule of games has not yet been arranged.

TRIP TO MILWAUKEE PRIZE AWARDED FOR WRITING OF ESSAYS

Two La Crosse Students Win Out in Products Exposition Contest

A two-days' trip to Milwaukee with all necessary expenses paid by the Wisconsin Products Exposition is the reward won by Stephen Morris, 1307 Main Street, and Eileen Haun, 703 South Fourth Street, for writing the best essays in La Crosse County on the subject, "My Best Opportunities Are in Wisconsin." The winners are to visit Milwaukee on December 6 and 7 that they may attend the Wisconsin Products Exposition to be held in the Milwaukee Auditorium December 1 to 8. They are to be accompanied by County Superintendent Blanche E. Chamberlain, who will also be a guest of the promoters of this exhibition. It is planned to accommodate two winners from each county of the state in one hotel, probably the Pfister Hotel, whence they will be taken on many educational expeditions.

The contest was open to students of the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades of all the public and parochial schools of the county. The best essays written in each school were selected and entered in the county contest. The essays of the following students from the Central High School won a place in the school contest: Ruth Lyon, Jack Thornton, Aletta Metcalf, Eileen Haun, Helen Darling, Stephen Morris, Wilda Hiekisch, Charlotte Nelson, Mary Hancock, and Charles Jagow.

A further prize of a hundred dollars will be offered to the winning student attending the Exposition who writes the best essay on the subject "My Impression of Wisconsin after Having Visited the 1923 Wisconsin Products Exposition."

All rights to publish the essays of Stephen Morris and Eileen Haun are reserved by the Wisconsin Products Exposition.

SHUN PARENTAL VOCATIONS

CHAPEL HILL, N. C.—By The Associated Press.—More than one-half of the 750 members of the freshman class at the University of North Carolina are wholly dependent on themselves for support, and are working their way through college as self-help students, according to Dean Francis F. Bradshaw.

A study of the matriculation cards made by the dean reveals also that students are not following in the footsteps of their fathers in choosing their life work. Ninety-five per cent of the new men are selecting different occupations, indicating North Carolina's change from rural to industrial life.

Medicine leads the vocational list, with the law second and teaching third.

BERLIN WOMEN ANGERED BY ORDER TO MUZZLE DOGS

BERLIN.—A war of words is raging in Berlin between women who own pet dogs on one side and the police and non-owners of dogs on the other. It was started when the police put into effect an order requiring all dogs to be muzzled or kept on leash when in the street. The women dog fanciers charge that this is simply a means of persecuting them for taking the muzzles off their little pets and letting them loose for a run in the forgetten.

The police justify the order by charging that the dogs running loose about Berlin have become a nuisance and a menace to public health, and the non-owners of dogs are arguing against the unnecessary waste of food in maintaining the dogs.

The war of words is being conducted through the medium of communications to the newspapers.

PHILIPPINES LOSE ON CEMENT, ONE OF ITS "WAR BABIES"

MANILA.—The insular government will lose $225,000 in the National Cement company, one of the Philippine government's "war baby" industries, if the deal, now reported to be virtually complete for the sale of the company to private interests, is consummated. The company has been financed out of funds of the national bank to the extent of approximately $1,500,000, and the pending loss will represent $15 on each share of capital stock with a pas value of $100.

According to the policy laid down by Governor General Wood of getting the government out of business, it has been decided to dispose of the company, which never has been in operation, for what it will bring.

A Chicago millionaire said to be behind the purchasing interests.

MOVIES

MARION DAVIES AT THE CASINO THEATER TODAY

Marion Davies says she knows how to sympathize with the prisoners in Florida who have been the victims of the brutal whippings which resulted in the death of one boy and stirred up the wrath of the whole nation. The fair motion picture star knows what it is to feel the deadly lash whirring above her head and descending with cutting fury upon her bare shoulders. During the making of her Cosmopolitan picture, "Little Old New York," the attraction at the Casino Theater

Miss Davies was called upon to take a beating administered by Louis Wolheim of "Hairy Ape" fame. Masquerading as a boy, little "Pat" gets into serious trouble and is almost the victim of mob violence. She is tied to the whipping post in the public square as it was a hundred years ago and struck several times with the lash. Of course, Wolheim tried to temper realism with mercy, but it was hard to put the required vim into the scene and still make the lash pass over the star's shoulders instead of falling upon them.

BARTHELMESS AT MAJESTIC

The biggest set ever used in a motion picture filmed in the East was employed for the banquet hall scene in John S. Robertson's production, "The Fighting Blade," in which Richard Barthelmess is being starred this week at Majestic Theater.

The entire studio at Fort Lee was employed for this set, several stages having been thrown into one for the purpose. It is a replica of the Great Hall at Stapershan Castle which was located near Oxford, England, which castle was destroyed during the conflict between Cromwell's Roundheads and the Cavaliers who supported Charles I. The destruction of the castle is shown in the climax of "The Fighting Blade," for the picture is based on the most thrilling episodes of that dramatic conflict.

"THE GOLD DIGGERS"—RIVOLI

The much anticipated showing yesterday at the Rivoli Theater easily convinced us that "The Gold Diggers" the adaptation of the David Belasco play of the same name, and a Broadway success for above two years, is one of those rare pictures which makes its coming an event to remember for all time. This is not only on account of its celebrated stars, its strong story and beautiful unique settings, but also because the entire story is unrolled smoothly, apparently without effort, as though it were a single unit, and not a complicated story of the gay night life of New York's intriguing women. It will play all week, and should be seen by all. The very able cast includes Hope Hampton, Windham Standing and Louise Fazenda.

WOMEN AS MORAL NOW AS EVER, SAYS STAR

"Women smitten with the unconventionalities of today are no different from women of the time of our grandmothers, when modesty was the order of the day," says the charming Colleen Moore, who enacts the leading role in "Flaming Youth," a First National picture which is to be shown at the Majestic next week.

"This," continues Colleen, "is not the age of immorality but the age of unrestraint. Women have always possessed the same instincts and the same human characteristics, which now are so loosely controlled by many and has resulted in a mad round of toppling conventionalities.

"They will return to their former modesty but not until men have learned that the most adorable thing about women is real femininity."

"CANYON VALLEY"

One of the most expert and graceful horsewomen in the country today is Edythe Sterling, the motion picture actress. Miss Sterling is now starring in a delightful series of Western pictures, in which her character delineations are those of a cowgirl or Western bred ranch woman. And there is nothing pseudo about Miss Sterling's Western reputation.

She is playing in the "Stranger of Canyon Valley," tonight at the Riviera Theater.

The student escort, all young men desirous of working their way through college, will be under bond to maintain the most exemplary deportment while accompanying young women at a nominal fee per hour.

CREAMERY TO CHANGE HANDS

MARSHALL, Minn.—At a meeting of the directors of the newly organized Marshall Farmers Co-operative Creamery company, a decision was made to purchase the property of the Marshall Creamery company for a consideration of $20,000. EXTEND TIME OF ARNOLD APPEAL

KEEP GARAGE DOOR OPEN WHEN RUNNING THE MOTOR INDOORS

Carbon Monoxide Gas from Exhaust of Motor is Poisonous

Forget about the thermometer, no matter if it is flirting with zero, and open up that garage door if you are going to run your motor inside.

This is an annual warning that possibly has grown hackneyed but it is one which can't be given too often, especially at this time of the year, for the penalty of its non-observance in most cases is death.

A majority of automobiles are kept in small single garages which through the winter are tightly closed. With the motor running these small structures, when the doors are shut, fill up quickly with the deadly carbon monoxide.

Deaths From Gas

Deaths following the running of automobile motors in closed garages have been of such frequent occurence in every part of the country that it would be thought warnings now are unnecessary but the poisonous gas is so insidious in its action that motorists grow careless with it.

If the motor is hitting on all of them sweet and pretty and no smoke at all is coming from the exhaust don't take it for granted that no harm can befall and close the garage door. Carbon monoxide is odorless, tasteless and invisible.

Carbon monoxide is present in the exhaust of an automobile all the time. In a building where the air is being circulated constantly or in a large structure the amount of gas coming from one car is so small relatively that it can do no harm but in a small garage with windows and doors closed enough is produced in a very short time to cause death.

Usually a victim of the gas has no idea what is happening to him. He becomes drowsy and, lying down, he inhales more of the deadly gas for carbon monoxied is heavier than air and its greatest quantity is close to the floor.

Shut off Motor

It is during cold weather that most deaths from this cause have occurred because with low temperature the automobile owner is tempted more often to run his motor with the garage doors closed. However, many deaths have occurred during summer and persons have been overcome by carbon monoxide while lying under a car, the motor of which was running even when the garage doors were wide open. It is a good plan to shut the motor off if you have to crawl under the car at any time or place.

In cases of carbon monoxide poisoning the victim should be removed at once to a warm place with fresh air and a doctor called. If the victim is unconscious, and even if he is not breathing, artificial respiration should be applied as quickly as possible and kept up until the victim regains consciousness.

YOUTHFUL BROKER GUILTY OF FRAUD

DENVER, Col.—Maurice Mandell, 26-year-old Denver broker, stands convicted embezzlement and conspiracy to defraud in connection with the failure of the Hibernia Bank and Trust company, which closed here last July with a shortage of $464,000. A district court jury Tuesday night, after a little more then four hours deliberation, found Mandell guilty of all of seven counts brought against him in a trial which has been in progress since November 5.

PASSENGER BUS COMPANIES WANT ROADS KEPT OPEN

Winter Service in State to Get Special Attention When Snow Falls

MADISON, Wis.—With 102 bus companies operating in Wisconsin, each with a fleet of passenger machines, the problem of maintaining winter service will get special attention this year.

Busses have come to handle more and more of the Wisconsin passenger traffic during the summer months. If a rapid clearing of the roads after heavy snowfalls can be accomplished this winter, Wisconsin will experience its first continual all-year schedule.

Bus company proprietors are petitioning local officials everywhere asking that the roads be kept open. They point out that keeping open the roads is necessary to bring 100 per cent highway efficiency and would be a boon to those who drive private machines as well as the citizens of rural communities who have come to depend on the bus as a means of transportation.

"Only a few of the states in the snow belt are making any effective attempt to keep the roads open during the winter months," according to "Bus-Transportation," the official organ of those in the auto passenger service. "Connecticut and Michigan perhaps have done more than any other states to recognize the importance of motor vehicle traffic in general and have undertaken, as part of their highway maintenance program, to clear snow from the main state highways.

"This work does not usually include the clearing of the main routes when they pass through cities or towns. If the cities and towns take care of the work in their own territory, then with the state and county authorities clearing the rural highways it should be possible to follow almost any main route by motor car, bus or truck with little if any more inconvenience than in the summer. That the roads should always be kept in passable condition is strongly advocated by the bus owner and operator, who pays in licenses and taxes for the right to operate his vehicle over state and city highways, not for six or eight months each year but for twelve."

POLICEMAN SAVES FOUR FROM FLAMES

CHICAGO, Ill.—Four children were saved from possible suffocation early Wednesday by Patrolman Petrucci, who carried them to safety after they were overcome by smoke during a fire in a tenement building. Firemen saved the children's parents.

HOME ECONOMY IN THE KITCHEN

Home economy should begin in the kitchen. The Sellers Kitchen Cabinet is the first aid to economy, for it saves time, saves steps, saves work and saves food supplies. The Sellers leads to system, stops wastes, inspires thrift. One hour with the Sellers is the work of two. The Sellers is the Kitchen Cabinet of quality, of utility, of strength, of beauty and of service. The best way to prove this is to buy one at Boyer-Furber's sale this week, and get the free groceries. Cash or payments.—Adv.

DAY OF THANKS

THANKSGIVING DAY originated as a time of thanks for plentiful harvests which made it certain that the early settlers of America would be able to endure the winter without starving.

Thanksgiving has gradually come to mean much more. It is the time of thanks for all such blessings as good crops, prosperity, health, peace, children, happy homes. In short, it is the one time of the year when the whole nation, regardless of creed or sect, unites in recognition of the spiritual—of our dependence on Almighty God.

Those early New England pioneers endured severe hardships. They had little to be thankful for, yet they devoutly gave thanks. Surely we should be made thoughtful and appreciatively humble as we ponder how much more we have to be thankful for than the Pilgrims.

MICHIGAN DEMOCRAT BACKS MOVEMENT TO NOMINATE FORD

DETROIT, Mich.—Edward Fresndorf of Hudson, prominent in Michigan democratic political circles, admitted Wednesday he was behind a movement to have the name of Henry Ford placed on the democratic presidential preference ballot in 1924.

Mr. Fresndorf declared that petitions have been drawn up and that they would be circulated at once.

"I am in favor of Mr. Ford and believe the majority of Michigan democrats want to vote for him," he said.

William A. Comstock, democratic state chairman, expressed some surprise over the possibility of Ford being made a democratic candidate.

"When Fresndorf mentioned the Ford possibility to me a month ago I thought he was joking," Comstock declared. "Perhaps he is in earnest."

RE-OPEN PROBE OF RACINE BOY'S DEATH

ODANAH, Wis.—Investigation into the death of Emerson Thornton, 19-year-old Racine youth who was shot and killed here two months ago, was re-opened Wednesday by representatives of the Wisconsin department of justice. The dead boy's mother, through Racine attorneys, asked the department to re-open the investigation and the request was granted. Thornton came to Odanah to visit his father, who had not seen him in fourteen years. A week later the boy was found shot through the heart in an abandoned house.

"Someone told me about Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I sent for a free sample. It proved so good that I purchased more, which healed me." (Signed) Miss Fairy Brown, So. 8th & Armory Sts., Chariton, Iowa.

DOCK COAL FIRMS THREATEN TO QUIT CITY OF SUPERIOR

SUPERIOR, Wis.—That the Carnegie Dock and Fuel company and the Great Lakes Coal and Dock company will cease operations in Superior unless taxes against the property of both companies are reduced and fairer treatment accorded both companies from the city of Superior, was the substance of statements made by C. C. Watts, general manager of the Great Lakes Coal and Dock company, and by John Howe, vice president and general manager of the Carnegie Dock and Fuel company Tuesday afternoon.

Both were present at a meeting of the tax board of review held in the council chamber at the city hall and at which time the question of the city's power to tax coal stored on local coal docks by railroads was taken up.

Mr. Howe declared that his company had been in numerous legal entanglements with Superior and that he considered as unfair the general treatment the city had given to the company. Both men were indignant toward what they called the unfriendliness" of the city.

WALTON AND AIDS IN COURT; TRIAL SET FOR MONDAY

Ex-governor Faces Arraignment on Criminal Indictments

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—By The Associated Press.—Arraignment of J. C. Walton, former governor, on six indictments charging diversion of public funds and dispersal of a meeting of the state legislature was continued until Monday. The deposed executive was to have entered pleas Wednesday morning, and the continuance was taken by agreement after it was found that four jury trials were docketed for the day.

Dr. E. A. Davenport, state health commissioner, indicted with Walton on five counts charging diversion of public funds, was granted a separate trial on his application. He was given until Friday morning to plead.

Arraignment of T. P. Edwards, Walton's former chauffeur, also set for Wednesday, was continued to Monday. Edwards is charged in five indictments with diverting public funds.

The three defendants were in court when District Judge George W. Clark, before whom the indictments were returned, postponed the arraignments.

A seventh indictment charging a misdemeanor is pending against Walton in county court.

INSURANCE OFFICER HELD FOR FILING INCORRECT REPORTS

MADISON, Wis.—Val Gottschalk, Milwaukee, secretary of the Automobile Liability company in Wisconsin, is being held under $2,500 bail after pleading not guilty in superior court here Wednesday to a charge of filing false reports with the state insurance commissioner. Gottschalk was arrested on warrant signed by W. Stanley Smith, state insurance commissioner. It is claimed that a report of the company for 1920 contained false statements.

The United States flag is to be shortened about 12 per cent in order to attain more artistic proportions.

SEARCH FOR MAN REPORTED PRISONER ALONE TEN DAYS

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.—Authorities in the vicinity of Jackson, Cal., are searching for an old mining tunnel, in which Philip Oleson, known as "Sonora Red," is believed to have lain for ten days, handcuffed and bound, according to a dispatch to the Examiner here. James Kennard, a prisoner in the county jail at San Andreas, has confessed to Sheriff Joseph Swing that he manacled and tied Oleson ten days ago and left him in an old tunnel, the location of which he has forgotten, because Oleson owed him money, the dispatch states.
